

International Business and Management studies FastTrack Programme

Are you motivated to complete your studies in an international oriented environment in 3 years?

If your answer is “Yes”, join the FastTrack programme. It offers you an opportunity to complete your studies in 3 years that prepares you for entry management positions at international companies.

What you can expect

First, the most sought after and highest paid strategy consultants are typically MBA graduates and BBA undergraduates (that’s you), with global expertise.

Second, if you aspire to join the top ranks of multinationals, expertise in international business is often a must.

Third, even if you don’t have an interest in the above two and work for a SME you might find yourself dealing with foreign owned suppliers and buyers, competing with foreign firms, exporting to foreign markets, or working for a foreign owned company.

Understanding how strategic decisions get made within such companies can be valuable to your career.
